

ECOAVENUES 2011

“It’s Good to Be Green” EcoProject Contest

High School Division

EcoAvenues is a FREE event created by the Cities of Avondale, Goodyear, Litchfield Park, Tolleson, Town of Buckeye, Southwest Valley and Buckeye Valley Chambers of Commerce and Estrella Mountain Community College (EMCC) that gives attendees information and resources to help them live a more sustainable life, run a more sustainable business and heighten their awareness of what it means to be ‘Green’. Along with exhibitors, demonstrations, kids activities and live music all centralized around a sustainability theme we will be displaying entries and publicly awarding EcoProject Contest winners for High School students.

Overview: High School Division students may submit an individual or team science project that has a ‘green’ emphasis. All entries will be displayed at EcoAvenues on March 26, 2011.

Rules:

- Entries may be submitted by either one team or one individual.
- Project must have a ‘green’ emphasis (i.e. geared toward environmental awareness, renewable energy or sustainable living).
- Project must be accompanied by a written description explaining the project (no longer than one page in length).
- Students may attend EcoAvenues to perform demonstrations of their entry for event attendees.
- In order for the student to have their entry judged they must completely fill out the contact details on the entry form.
- We ask that teachers collect all entries and have them available in one location so that a member of the EcoAvenues Steering Committee can pick up all entries from your school’s administration office after 12PM on March 14th.
- All entries can be picked up by the student, family or teacher at 2:00PM at EcoAvenues on March 26th. If entries are not picked up at EcoAvenues by 4PM on March 26th the entries will not be saved.
- We would appreciate any participation from teachers to encourage the submittal of entries in this contest.
- Participants agree to abide by all decisions of the EcoAvenues Steering Committee, contest sponsors and judges, which shall be final and binding with respect to all issues relating to this contest.
- The EcoAvenues Steering Committee is not responsible for problems including (but not limited to) damaged, incorrect, inaccurate, lost, delayed, or defective entries, or for injury or damage to any computer resulting from participation in this contest. Entries that have been tampered with or altered after submittal are void.
- The EcoAvenues Steering Committee reserves the right to modify, cancel, postpone or end the contest at any time as necessary, at its sole discretion, or to disqualify any participant or winner, at its sole discretion, deemed to have cheated, destroyed, obstructed, or otherwise acted illegally or in bad faith in relation to this contest.

Judging: The EMCC Sustainability Team will judge and select one individual and one team entry to each receive a prize. Judges will not be privy to students' names while selecting a winner. The teacher listed on the project will be contacted about their student's award and the prize will be sent to that instructor to distribute if the student is not present at EcoAvenues on March 26th.

All students' projects will be displayed at EcoAvenues on March 26th and it is suggested that students and their families attend the event.
